A diagram illustrating dependencies. At the top is a gray rectangular box with a black border containing the text "03/timus/1787/main.cpp". Two blue arrows originate from the bottom center of this box. The left arrow points down and to the left to a white rectangular box with a gray border containing the text "iostream". The right arrow points down and to the right to another white rectangular box with a gray border containing the text "vector".
